

media relations

CDC's brochure, "The Prevention Marketing Initiative: Media Relations," is designed to provide technical information on how to reach and use the three primary mass media channels: television, radio, and print.

